

TARGETING TERRORISTS

The inside story on new strategies
in the war on terrorism

Wednesday, September 14
7:30 PM

Congregation Beth Emek
3400 Nevada Court in Pleasanton

The Jewish Federation of the East Bay presents:
An evening with counter-terrorism expert Amos Guiora
Commemorating the 10th Anniversary of 9/11

How do targeted killings help in the war against terrorism?
Are they justifiable under international law?

Amos Guiora is an internationally recognized expert on fighting terrorism who has been interviewed by CNN, Fox News, BBC, The New York Times, and The Washington Post. He has testified before Congress and sits as a member of National Security Advisory Committee. He served for 19 years in the Israel Defense Forces in senior command positions and is currently Professor of Law at the University of Utah S.J. Quinney College of Law.

Guiora has written numerous books and articles on counter-terrorism, targeted killing, and the limits of interrogation techniques. He will share with us his personal experiences in fighting terrorism.
